Funeral Service Held Here For Mrs. Babcock

Prominent Lady Passes Away Monday

Mrs. Rosa Blanche Moore Babcock, widow of the late Homer Curtis Babcock, died Monday evening at her home here after an illness of several weeks. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday at 10 A. M., at the Memorial Methodist church, by her pastor, the Rev. Louis C. Shearer, with burial in the family plot, near Appomattox.

Mrs. Babcock, who was born and reared in Appomattox county, was the former Rosa Blanche Moore, only daughter of Robert and Hester Burge Moore. Her maternal grandfather was a presiding elder in the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The beautiful life of Mrs. Babcock has left an indelible impress on the town and community in which she lived, for it may well be said of her: "She went about doing good." She was that rare type of Christian who combined in her daily life faith and works, so that not only her children, but all with whom she came in contact, rise up and call her blessed. She was interested in and supported civic organizations that had for their aim the uplift of the community. The glory of her life was its godliness, its utter self-abnegation. She often ministered with tender, experienced hands to the sick, supplied the needs of the poor and spoke words of hope and encouragement to the disheartened. Mrs. Babcock was a versatile woman in her talents, having unusual business acumen.

Mrs. Babcock is survived by the following: two brothers, Fletcher and Burge Moore; seven children: Robert W., Thomas H. Babcock, of Appomattox; Dr. Havilah Babcock, of the University of South Carolina; A. A. Babcock, of Gladstone; Mrs. F. L. Murphy, Mrs. Caroline Cates, and Miss Rebecca Babcock, of Appomattox. She leaves twenty grand-children: Homer Curtis Babcock II, Mrs. Clarence C. Poe, Mrs. S. A. Lawson, Miss Margaret Babcock, Miss Rose Ella Babcock, H. W., and R. M. Babcock T. H. Babcock, Jr., Walter, Wallace and Charles Dwight Babcock. Mrs. M. Nelson, Hudson Home: Babcock, of Columbia, South Carolina; John Lloyd and Edward Scott Gates, June, Byron and Robbie Brad Bradley Babcock, of Gladstone; and the following great-grand children: Helen Mae Poe, Clarence Poe Jr., and Homer Curtis III.

Active pallbearers were: Homer Babcock, Marshall Babcock, Thomas Babcock, Charles Babcock, Walter Babcock and "Buck" Babcock. Honorary pallbearers were: B. G. Anderson, Dr. D. A. Christian, Dr. R. H. Cross, Henry Coffman, Paul Drinkard, N. R. Featherston, Thomas H. Moses, C. S. McDearmon, H. W. McKinney, H. H. Martin, Bob Marvin, Otho Marvin, Dr. W. L. Ould, W. W. Sweeney, B. B. Sweeney, W. P. Sweeney, Alfred Sweeney, and L. M. Wilkes.

Flower-bearers were grand-children and other relatives.

"And death itself, to her, was but The wider opening to the door That had been opening, more and more, Through all her life, and ne'er was shut.....

And never shall be shut. She left The door ajar for you and me; And looking after her, we see The glory shining through the cleft."

Get Ready In Virginia For Conscription

Richmond, August 14.- While Governor Price is on vacation, military authorities are getting ready to put selective service into effect in Virginia, once Congress passes this law.

Induction of the National Guard into Federal service, if and when it occurs will find the authorities ready to organize speedily a home protective force to replace the militiamen, now in training in New York State.

The existing election machinery would be utilized for registration of men included in the selective draft age limits, and local draft boards set up throughout Virginia to determine exemptions and non-exemptions from military training.

Autos Cost Many Lives

Richmond, Aug. 14.- In an effort to make their several thousand field employees more safety conscious, the Virginia State Highway Department has printed a tabulation showing that accidental deaths in the United States in 1936-37-38 exceeded the numbr of men killed in action during all wars in which America has participated.

While 244,357 men paid the supreme sacrifice from the Revolutionary War period through the World War, accidental deaths in the U.S. in three years exacted a toll of 309,000.

Brunswick Stew at Holiday Lake Tuck to Speak

With membership reports indicating a nice attendance, the Young Democratic Club of Appomattox county is all set for its second annual Brunswick Stew, to be held at 4 P. M. tomorrow, Friday, August 23, at Holiday Lake.

Senator William M. Tuck, of Halifax, a prospective candidate for Governor next year, will be speaker.

A number of prominent Democrats from neighboring counties have been invited to attend.

An expert in the art of making Brunswick Stew, from Charlotte county, has been engaged and will be on the job early tomorrow morning.

President Watt Abbitt said he expected to have a membership this year of between 150 and 200. The annual dues of the club are $1.00, and entitle one to attend the Brunswick Stew without extra charge. Tickets may be secured from any member of a large membership committee, and will be available at the lake tomorrow afternoon.

The Young Democratic Clubs are composed of younger members of the party and serve as a traing ground for future leaders. The organization was highly honored Tuesday in Richmond, when one of its number, Horace Edwards, of Richmond, was chosen chairman of the State Senior Democratic Committee, to succeed the late Murray Hooker.

The State Young Democratic convention will be held in Richmond on September 6 and 7. A regular meeting of the local club will be held tomorrow after the speaking.

Defeated Farmville Yesterday, 6-5 in 13 Innings

Appomattox's highly successful Lee Theatre baseball team plays in Salem tonight at 7 o'clock against Martinsville for the state semi-pro championship. A large contingent of local fans plan to accompany the team. Manager J.C. Caldwell announced this morning that Junior Beard would pitch for Appomattox as the team made a bid for the top semi-pro honor in the state and for shandosme silver trophy.

Appomattox earned the right to play in the finals by defeating Vinton 6 to 1 Monday night behind the effective pitching of Bo Stanley.

In a non-league game yesterday, Appomattox downed Farmville 6 to 5 in 13 innings. Louie Ciola was on the mound for Appomattox and allowed only 6 hits in going the full 13 innings. In addition to his pitching, Ciola was the star batter, with three singles and a double in the 9th inning, Ciola drove in the tying run, and again in the 13th, with Bob Sagnett on base, Ciola drove in the winning run. Appomattox got 16 hits.

Still a full game ahead in the Skyline league, Appomattox faces a major test Saturday at Buena Vista against the second place Volunteers. A loss to Buena Vista would throw the league lead into a tye. George Powell will be the likely choice for pitching honors in this game. Sunday afternoon, Appomattox plays at Piney River.

The following week-end, a postponed game with Brookneal will be played, and a tie game with Piedmont Label will be played off at Bedford. At the end of the Skyline season, there will be a play-off series between the top four teams in the league.

T P DAWSON

Funeral services for Mr. T. P. Dawson, 75, who died Sunday at at his home at Pamplin, were held Monday at the Rocks church. The Rev W. M. Black conducted the services. He is survived by his sisters, Miss Grace Dawson of Pamplin and Mrs. Lillie Reynolds of Chatham, and one brother, R. N. Dawson, of Appomattox.

Birthday Party

There was a surprise for Mrs. A. B. Ferguson Sunday morning when some of her children came to celebrate her 69th birthday. There was a bountiful dinner. All of her children were present but one, Mrs. F. D. Harris, of Amherst, who was absent on account of the high water. Her oldest son, R. B. Ferguson, of Lynchburg, presented her with a beautiful birthday cake. She received many presents.
